

Emirates Stadium

UNITED KINGDOM
OPENS 2006,

In May 2005, leveraging from the success of the Wembley Stadium contract win, Delaware North Companies (UK) was awarded the catering rights for the prestigious Emirates Stadium for a period of 20 years. The Emirates Stadium will be the new home of Premiership Team Arsenal.

Under the terms of the deal Delaware North will become the sole and exclusive provider of all catering services for matches, other events and functions at the new 60,000 seat Emirates Stadium, which is expected to open in the summer of 2006. Annual turnover for the contract is forecast to exceed £ 16 million per annum.

Emirates Stadium will provide supporters with a superb range of refreshment facilities throughout all areas the stadium. The Emirates Stadium deal is believed to be the largest, individual football club catering contract ever signed.

